

MASTER'S DEGREE IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS AND BUSINESS DIPLOMACY

Student profile

- Graduates who plan to develop their career in the field of business internationalization.
- Professionals interested in receiving innovative training in a multicultural environment with local and mobility students from various nationalities.
- Professionals working in business fields and public institutions for international business promotion, who need to underpin their professional profile with advanced training in new strategies and tools that take into account the latest advances in this field.
- Experts interested in conducting their professional activity in the field of business internationalization, either in companies with international presence or vocation, consultancy firms, business associations and clusters, chambers of commerce, professional entrepreneurship in advanced internationalization services, public institutions and those focused on promoting business internationalization, multilateral organizations related to the promotion and optimization of fair, free and sustainable international trade.
- Specifically, applications from graduates in the following degrees will be particularly considered: Law, Business Administration and Management, Economics and Business, International Relations, Political Science, Engineering.