

Double Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration and Management + Industrial Technology Engineering

Candidate profile

Students wishing to study the Double Bachelor's degree in Business Administration and Management + Industrial Technology Engineering at University of Deusto must have a proactive attitude towards learning and developing the professional competences in the field of business administration and industrial technologies. Candidates to the Business Administration + Industrial Technology Engineering degree should be creative people, with analytical and reasoning skills, organised and persevering in their studies and curious to learn how things work. They should be interested in technologies applied to industry and how they can help us to be more efficient, as well as in new market trends and the functioning of the economy. They should also have good language skills, the ability to work in a team and the desire to become an excellent, responsible and socially committed professionals.

Graduate profile

The Double Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration and Management + Industrial Technology Engineering opens the door to a wide range of career opportunities, providing students with the appropriate skills and knowledge to resolve conflicts in both the business and industrial technology spheres. This is a multi-skilled profile in high demand and especially valued in companies with a strong technological component. Graduates in this double degree will acquire the knowledge and skills necessary to work in jobs that combine both areas, such as: design and management of quality systems, technological management in companies, technological consultancy or industrial company management.

Deusto

Universidad de Deusto
Deustuko Unibertsitatea